Two years ago our company purchased two new stat-of-the-art voicemail systems for about $20,000.00 each. We have maintained a hardware & software contract for the two years. We are now being told that unless we purchase a $1,900.00 upgrade for each unit, they will cancel the service contract as of 6/1/1999 and the systems will stop working properly as of 1/1/2000. Can they do this to us?
